

UBU Research

UBU academics actively conduct research projects in a wide range of topics in many disciplines. The university particularly encourages research beneficial to the local community of southern North-East Thailand and the Greater Mekong Sub-region.

UBU research centers include UBU Science Park, Learning Organization and Development Center of Sesame for Sustainable Agro-household industry, Advanced Organic Materials and Devices Laboratory, and the Mekong Sub-region Social Research Center.

A selection of research projects and topics at UBU includes the production of Warin Warin orchids, the manufacture of bioplastics from fresh gluten, the use of biomass in industrial ceramics, the development of teaching materials for local schools in Ubon Ratchathani Province, renewable energy technologies, and a project titled Raising Awareness and Engaging Citizens in Local Governance.

See <http://www.ubu.ac.th/en> for a detailed list of research completed and/or being completed by UBU academics.

UBU International Partners

UBU has a number of formal and informal partnerships with institutions and individuals in countries outside of Thailand. There are official Memorandum of Understanding (MoUs) with a range of universities and organizations in South-East and East Asia, the United States, Europe, Australia, and New Zealand. The university is also a member of various academic associations, including ASEA-UNINET, EACC, GMSARN, and UMAP.

Semester Times

UBU mainly operates on a two-semester program. From 2014, semester 1 is from the beginning of August to the end of October and Semester 2 is from December to April.

A summer semester from May to July is also offered in some selected courses presented in intensive mode.
